The Internal Revenue Service updates certain plan limits annually, due to cost-of-living increases mandated by law or in response to legislative events. The IRS newsletter and website provides much more detail on how these and other limits apply to your benefit plans. Of course you should consult your tax counsel for specific advice.

Keeping a retirement plan in administrative compliance is difficult enough. Why bear the entire burden of managing investment issues as well? Your investment consultant can provide the policy guidance, monitoring, manager search, and communications support you need – allowing you to stay focused on plan administration and benefits policy.

Bellwether Consulting is an independent investment advisor serving the needs of retirement plan sponsors and other institutional investors.
